

Mare-Zyme

Have you ever had a mare who was down right moody, uncooperative, or even just out of sorts every month when they were cycling? Or maybe even a mare who cycles every 10 days, non-stop? We, and many of our friends have been at our wits end trying to figure out what we can do for them, that is non-chemical, safe, effective and doesn't require vet intervention. It can be frustrating on many levels, for the mare and for the owner.

MARE-ZYME was researched over several years. It was designed and tested on more than 50 mares, including our own. We took many of the hormonal regulating herbs and combined them with some of the calming or nervine herbs, then added some Cramp Bark, and we came up with a great blend that really helps to soothe, calm, and restore balance to the mare.

Our goal with Mare-Zyme was to formulate a product that would safely assist the mare, in the most natural of ways, using herbs that she might seek out and find in the wild, if she were in nature, to support, as well as assist her in balancing her digestive and hormonal systems.

The herbs contained in Mare-Zyme have naturally occurring anti-inflammatory compounds, while some of the herbs selected are known to support pancreatic, pituitary, and other hormonal functions.

A few of the herbs blended in Mare-Zyme may have a slight sedative or nervine affect, but only on some mares. Mare-Zyme also contains herbs that have been shown in some studies to also help balance and support the mares reproductive system on several levels.

Our field tests have shown this blend to help moody mares to be less moody, especially during their heat cycles. Mare owners who have been using the product for some time have seen amazing results in their mares, including calmer more cooperative horses, and even with younger horses who do not quite yet understand what is happening to them when they are cycling are happier and easier to be around.

Some of the herbs selected will also naturally reduce or even eliminate menstrual cramping and will naturally assist in calming tense or overly sensitive mares with regular use.

This product is intended to be used only during part of the year, particularly in Spring when mares are cycling and through some of the summer months. Although it would be safe, it is not intended for pregnant mares. Once a mare is in foal the mare should be switched to MARE N' FOAL-ZYME which has herbs that supply naturally occurring vitamins and minerals as well as tonify the uterus for easier delivery.

This combination of herbs is blended in a base of PRO-ZYME and will assist in maintaining a healthy digestive and nervous system. It may help to avoid stress related symptoms including poor digestion, anxiety, and over excitement.

All of the herbs contained in these products are wild crafted and natural with no additives or preservatives. ♦
